Komodor (Dev-tool Startup)

Senior Product Designer

- Lead designer for the platform, owning UX across core troubleshooting, reliability, and AI-assisted incident-investigation surfaces.
- Initiated and drove adoption of a design system and component library, using the git repo (not Figma) as source of truth - reduced design-to-dev inconsistency and sped up component delivery.
- Identified, researched, and led features end-to-end from discovery through shipped design, aligning roadmap decisions with business goals.
- Ran iterative design critique and feedback cycles with designers, PMs, and stakeholders to refine features through multiple rounds before ship.

Red Interactive (Design Studio)

UX/UI Designer

- Designed user flows, wireframes, and visual UI for dashboards and mobile applications as a studio designer within an agile team, maintaining visual consistency across products.
- Led design for a recruitment platform: researched distinct user roles and translated findings into a design strategy that resolved complex UX challenges ahead of MVP launch.
- Participated in design-sprint workshops and moderated user-testing sessions to validate concepts pre-build.
- Mentored newer designers on process, critique, and craft.
- Outsourced to a startup to help build the UI of a recruitment platform.
